Neotro Inc. (Representative Director: Risa Sawatari; located in Yokohama, Kanagawa Prefecture; hereafter, Neotro) has released the 2D shooting game for Windows "VRITRA COMPLETE EDITION" on Steam.

"VRITRA COMPLETE EDITION" is a 2D side-scrolling shooter in which the player controls the sacred dragon Indra and his weapons called Vajras to defeat enemies. While its simple controls consist only of a shooting button and a boost button, the game system features strategic and in-depth gameplay with its highly-perfected and enjoyable maneuverability. In addition, the spectacular universe depicted in the game and the impactful sounds make the game superbly impressive.

In this enhanced version of the previously-released smartphone version, new stages have been added, new Vajras have been added, and the display resolution has been improved, offering players an even more enjoyable experience.

In addition to the four difficulty settings (Normal, Arcade, Expert, and Insane) an endless score attack mode called Mugen Mode has been added. This game can be enjoyed by everyone, including expert gamers with experience playing the shooting games of the past, as well as inexperienced casual gamers.

In the Steam version, 16 types of leaderboards and achievements are available, with a variety of features such as a built-in replay save and view function that can be used to watch yourself play the game to help you strategize as you proceed.
